Exposure Draft Northern Territory Constitution Additional Provisions

INTRODUCTION

The Northern Territory Legislative Assembly Sessional Committee on Constitutional Development, formerly a Select Committee, in responses to its terms of reference, has been working for some years on matters that could be dealt with in a new constitution for the Northern Territory.

The Committee has been proceeding with the preparation of a draft constitution in the light of the various submissions and comments made to it.

On 22 June an Exposure Draft on Parts 1 to 7 on a new Constitution for the Northern Territory was tabled in the Legislative Assembly. That Exposure Draft encapsulated the main elements of a proposed constitution for the Northern Territory.

Since that time, the Committee has proceeded in formulating additional provisions to that Exposure Draft and this document now includes some of the essential elements not canvassed in the earlier document. The additional provisions include the following:

- the amendment procedures to the Constitution and Organic laws;
- the establishment of a Standing Committee on the Constitution and Organic Laws;
- the constitutional recognition of the diverse peoples that make up the Northern Territory in respect of their language, social, cultural and religious matters; including
- the recognition of Aboriginal people of the Northern Territory to be self-determining in exercising control over all facets of their daily lives; and
- the constitutional recognition of the system of local government, including its role and function as a local governing body.

This document does not include provisions relating to the transitional arrangements and definitions, apart from defining 'Aboriginal self-determination'. Other matters may yet be included.

The format of the additional provisions follows that of the earlier document, that is, they are annotated with an explanation of each clause, with variations that would be required in the event that a republican system of government was to be adopted, and if the constitution was to be brought into operation before any grant of Statehood to the Territory. Cross references to the Committee's issued papers are also included for ease of reference.

The additional provisions canvassed in this document do not represent the final views of the Committee, however, the document is issued for the purpose of receiving public comment and submissions before the Committee settles the draft constitution and finally reports to the Legislative Assembly.

Exposure Draft Northern Territory Constitution
Additional Provisions

Following final report to the Legislative Assembly, the further procedure for adoption of the Constitution previously, outlined in the Committee's issued papers are envisaged. These include a Territory Constitutional Convention and Territory referendum.

TERMS OF REFERENCE

On 28 August 1985, the Legislative Assembly of the Northern Territory of Australia by resolution established the Select Committee on Constitutional Development.

Amendments to the Committee's original terms of reference were made when it was reconstituted on 28 April 1987. On 30 November 1989, the Legislative Assembly further resolved to amend the terms of reference by changing the Committee's status to a Sessional Committee. On 4 December 1990 and on 27 June 1994, it was again reconstituted with no further change to its terms of reference.

The original resolutions were passed in conjunction with proposals then being developed in the Northern Territory for a grant of Statehood to the Territory within the Australian federal system. The terms of reference include, as a major aspect of the work of the Committee, a consideration of matters connected with a new State constitution.

The primary terms of reference of the Sessional Committee are as follows:

- "(1)... a committee to be known as the Sessional Committee on Constitutional Development, be established to inquire into, report and make recommendations to the Legislative Assembly on -
 - (a) a constitution for the new State and the principles upon which it should be drawn, including -
 - (i) legislative powers;
 - (ii) executive powers;
 - (iii) judicial powers; and
 - (iv) the method to be adopted to have a draft new State constitution approved by or on behalf of the people of the Northern Territory; and
 - (b) the issues, conditions and procedures pertinent to the entry of the Northern Territory into the Federation as a new State; and
 - (c) such other constitutional and legal matters as may be referred to it by -
 - (i) relevant Ministers, or
 - (ii) resolution of the Assembly.
- (2) the Committee undertake a role in promoting the awareness of constitutional issues to the Northern Territory and Australian populations."

DISCUSSION AND INFORMATION PAPERS AND REPORTS

The Committee has prepared and issued a number of papers and an interim report arising from its terms of reference, as follows:

TABLING STATEMENT

delivered in the Northern Territory Legislative Assembly on 30 November 1995

by the

Hon. Steve Hatton, MLA

Chairman, Sessional Committee on Constitutional Development

Mr Speaker, I lay on the table a Paper entitled 'Additional Provisions to the Exposure Draft on a new Constitution for the Northern Territory'.

Mr Speaker, I move that the Paper be printed.

Mr Speaker, I move that the Assembly note the Paper.

Mr Speaker, on 22 June 1995, I laid on the table the 'Exposure Draft Parts 1 to 7: A new Constitution for the Northern Territory'. That document was the culmination of almost ten years of hard work and co-operation from both sides of the House that are represented on this Committee.

That Exposure Draft encapsulated the main elements of a proposed constitution for the Northern Territory and for the first time in Australia's constitutional history recognised the major role of Aboriginal people in the foundation of this Country and to the contribution that they have made as an integral and valued part of the Territory community.

The additional provisions to the Exposure Draft is also the culmination of the strong bipartisan effort in making a draft constitution for the Northern Territory a reality.

Mr Speaker, I would like to place on public record the contribution of past and present members of this House, in particular, the former Member for Arnhem, whose important contribution to the process of constitution-making in the Northern Territory and his striving for reconciliation between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal people will not be forgotten.

The former Member for Arnhem's ideals, intentions and vision for a united, harmonious and tolerant Northern Territory run through the pages of this document and the Exposure

Draft. I believe that there is no more fitting way than to uphold his vision for his people than through what is expressed in these documents.

Mr Speaker, the Committee has been proceeding with the preparation of a draft constitution, and on 22 June 1995, an Exposure Draft Constitution was tabled. During those sittings, I informed the House that there would be additional clauses to be released for public comment as they were completed. Since that time, the Committee has proceeded to formulate additional provisions to that Exposure Draft and this document includes some of the essential elements that were not canvassed in the earlier document.

Mr Speaker, I wish to speak on the additional provisions. Firstly, the amendment procedures to the Constitution and Organic laws. Any amendment to the Constitution and Organic laws will require a special procedure in order to effect any change. These special measures are:

- an enactment of a Bill to amend the Constitution or an Organic law. The procedure for the passage of the Bill through the House will require it to sit for a period of at least two calendar months between voting on its second and third readings;
- during the intervening period the Bill will be submitted to a Standing Committee on the Constitution and Organic Laws which will consider and report on the proposed amendment; and
- once the Bill proposing the amendment to the Constitution has passed through the House, and upon the assent by the Governor, it shall be put to a referendum of electors of the Northern Territory qualified to vote at an election of the members of the Parliament. A referendum question must be carried at the referendum to which it is put, by valid affirmative votes equal to, or more than 50% of the total number of valid votes cast at the referendum.

It is important to note that a referendum is required, only in respect of amending the Constitution. Any amendment to an Organic law will not require it to go through the referendum stage, however, all of the other elements that are in place to amend the Constitution would apply.

Mr Speaker, I mentioned earlier the Standing Committee on the Constitution and Organic Laws and I would like to elaborate briefly in respect of its establishment. The Committee considered a number of alternatives regarding citizens' initiated referendums which ranged from constitutional change, legislative change or veto, changes in government policy, and to the recall of elected and appointed officials. In considering these issues the Committee accepted that there is some merit in the various alternatives, but it was not convinced that the advantages outweighed the disadvantages.

However, the Committee did see merit in a system which facilitates at reasonable intervals, public involvement and debate for constitutional review, providing that the final decision as to whether any proposals for constitutional change that is to be put to a referendum, is left with the new State Parliament.

The new provision in the Constitution reflects this position through the establishment of the Standing Committee. Its powers and functions would be provided by the Standing Orders of the Parliament and its membership would comprise of Members of Parliament and such other persons as specified in the Standing Orders.

The new provision also provides for a procedure in receiving petitions from persons in the Northern Territory requesting an amendment to this Constitution or an Organic law. For the Standing Committee to consider a request by petition, the petition requires that it be signed by ten (10) per cent of the electors qualified to vote at the election of the members of the Parliament.

Mr Speaker, another important addition to the Exposure Draft, is the inclusion of a new preamble and new expressed provisions recognising the diverse backgrounds and cultures of the people who reside in the Northern Territory in not unreasonably denying them the right -

- to use, speak and understand their own language; and
- to observe and practice their own social and cultural customs and traditions, beliefs, ceremonies or religion.

The Committee in proposing certain expressed constitutional rights, has recognised the special multicultural nature of the Northern Territory and the harmonious relationships among its people. The Committee has been acutely conscious of the importance in maintaining and improving this relationship for the common benefit of all Territorians and their descendants into the future.

The new preamble also reflects the recognition of the Aboriginal people of the Northern Territory to be self-determining in exercising control over all facets of their daily lives. In giving strength to this preamble a new expressed provision headed 'Aboriginal self-determination' is now included under Part 7 of the Exposure Draft Constitution. This provision recognises the special place that Aboriginal people have in the Northern Territory and it provides a mechanism for Parliament through enactment to enhance the activity of Aboriginal people in exercising control over their daily affairs in order to safeguard, strengthen and develop their language, social and cultural customs and traditions, religion or beliefs, economies and identities.

In considering the special place of Aboriginal people of the Northern Territory, the Committee was conscious of the need to reflect this recognition not only in the Preamble acknowledging Aboriginal occupation of this Country prior to European settlement, but also through expressed enforceable provisions within the Constitution that addressed land rights, the protection of sacred sites, the recognition of Aboriginal customary law and Aboriginal self-determination.

Nowhere in any Australian jurisdiction has the above additional provisions been included in any constitutional document to this extent. The Committee has considered these issues long and hard, and it has resolved that they should be included in a Northern Territory constitution under a framework of a united, harmonious and tolerant society.

Mr Speaker, the Committee has also considered the inclusion in the Exposure Draft, the constitutional recognition of the system of local government. As with all State Constitutions in Australia local government is now recognised as the third sphere of government. The Committee considered the various submissions and State Constitutions as to what would effectively apply within the Northern Territory. Apart from mainstream local government, the Committee also took into account those local governing bodies established within Aboriginal communities.

This additional provision on local government provides for a measure of autonomy and the important elements that Parliament shall take into account when legislating in respect of local governing bodies. These are -

- the general competency powers and functions in respect to their -
 - i. objectives, powers, functions and responsibilities;
 - ii. rating and any other forms of revenue, expenditure and fiscal accountability;
 - iii. membership;
 - iv. boundaries; and

Exposure Draft Northern Territory Constitution
Additional Provisions

- protection from dismissal without having a public enquiry as to the reasons for its dismissal.

Mr Speaker, in closing, the Exposure Draft and the additional provisions are based on the premise that the Northern Territory is to be placed on an equal footing with existing States as a pre-condition to any grant of Statehood. They serve not only as a notification to all Australians the intent of the Northern Territory to be an equal partner with the States, within the Australian federation, but they also reflect the developing constitutional issues that could be addressed and developed as a model that other Australian jurisdictions could follow.

The Northern Territory has taken on the challenge to develop a constitution that reflects all aspects of modern day Northern Territory society and its values. Only through the process of collaboration and consultation with the citizens of the Northern Territory, the Commonwealth and the States, can Statehood for the Northern Territory become a reality.

Let us work towards that end.

Mr Speaker, I commend the additional provisions to the Exposure Draft Constitution for the Northern Territory to Honourable Members.

Exposure Draft Northern Territory Constitution
Additional Provisions

- (2) Subject to section 2.6(4) an amendment to this Constitution shall not take effect unless a Bill for an Act of Parliament has first been enacted by the Parliament, setting out the precise terms of the proposed amendment and providing for the question of its adoption to be submitted to a referendum of electors of the Northern Territory on that proposed amendment. That Bill shall not be taken to have been enacted unless:-
- (a) there was a period of at least two calendar months between voting on its second reading and voting on its third reading;
 - (b) if the Bill was amended in Committee other than by way of minor drafting or consequential amendments, there was a period of at least two calendar months between voting on the last amendment to the Bill and voting on its third reading as amended; and

Purpose of the Clause:	2.4 Constitutional Amendment

This clause is a new insertion into the Exposure Draft and it continues on from Clause 2.3. It provides for an amendment procedure to this Constitution. Although somewhat detailed the salient points are:

- The amendment procedure provides for a Bill for an Act of the Parliament to amend this Constitution and it shall not be enacted unless there has been a period of least two (2) calendar months between voting on its second reading and voting on its third reading.
- Before the Bill proceeds to the third reading, it shall be submitted to a Standing Committee established by this Constitution — see Clause 2.6 — to consider and report on the proposed amendment to the Parliament.
- Subsequent to the third reading, the Speaker shall certify to the Governor, prior to his or her assent to the Bill, that the procedures have been complied with in accordance with this Constitution.
- Upon the assent of the Governor, the adoption of the propose amendment shall be put to a referendum of electors of the Northern Territory qualified to vote at an election of the members of the Parliament.
- The referendum to adopt the proposed amendment must be held no earlier than three (3) months and no later than twelve months after assent has been given by the Governor.
- Except where it is provided in this Constitution, a referendum question must be carried at the referendum to which it is put, by valid affirmative votes equal to or more than 50% of the total number of valid votes cast at the referendum.

Variations:

- (a) Republic: No Change.
- (b) Pre—Statehood: No Change.

- (1) An Organic Law may only be amended either by an amendment of this Constitution under section 2.4 or by a Bill enacted in accordance with the provisions of this section, and not otherwise.
- (2) Subject to sections 2.3(6) and 2.6(4), a Bill for an Act of Parliament for the amendment, in whole or part, of an existing Organic Law, and whether by way of an amendment of a provision of that Organic Law or by the insertion of a new provision in that Organic Law, shall not take effect as an amendment of that

Additional Provisions

Organic Law unless it is enacted by the Parliament in the same manner as required by section 2.3 for the enactment of an Act of the Parliament which itself expressly states that it is an Organic Law and which would, upon assent, be an Organic Law.

Purpose of the Clause: 2.5 Amendment of Organic Laws

This clause is a new insertion into the Exposure Draft and it provides for an amendment procedure to the Organic laws that have been declared by this Constitution to be an Organic law or to an Act of Parliament which expressly states that it is an Organic law — see Clause 2.3. The amendment procedures follow closely to those procedures required to amend this Constitution, however, any amendment(s) or insertion(s) to an Organic law do not require that they be put to a referendum for adoption.

Variations:

(a) Republic: No Change.

(b) Pre—Statehood: No Change.

The use of Organic laws was raised in Discussion Paper No. 6, Aboriginal Rights and Issues - Options for Entrenchment, 1993: for Aboriginal Land Rights: pp 15-16; for a possible Bill of Rights in Discussion Paper No. 8, A Northern Territory Bill of Rights?, 1995: p.51; and for local government in Discussion Paper No. 9, Constitutional Recognition of Local Government, 1995.

2.6 STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE CONSTITUTION AND ORGANIC LAWS

- (1) The Parliament shall appoint a Standing Committee to be known as the Standing Committee on the Constitution and Organic Laws.
- (2) The powers, functions, privileges and procedures of the Committee shall be as provided in the Standing Rules and Orders of the Parliament.
- (3) The Committee shall be composed of such members of the Parliament and other persons, holding office on such terms and conditions, as are specified in the Standing Rules and Orders of the Parliament.
- (4) A Bill for an Act to amend this Constitution or to amend an Organic Law shall not proceed to a second reading in the Parliament unless the proposal contained in the Bill has first been considered by the Committee and the Committee has reported on the proposal to the Parliament.
- (5) The Committee may receive and consider a petition from persons from the Northern Territory requesting an amendment of this Constitution or of an Organic Law, and the Committee may report to the Parliament thereon.
- (6) The Committee shall consider a reference from the Parliament by way of a resolution of Parliament, following the introduction of the Bill into the Parliament proposing an amendment of this Constitution or of an Organic Law or on any other matter, and the Committee shall report to the Parliament thereon as soon as practicable thereafter.

- | | | |
|-------------------------------|------------|--|
| Purpose of the Clause: | 2.6 | Standing Committee on the Constitution and Organic Laws |
|-------------------------------|------------|--|

Provides for the establishment of a Standing Constitutional Committee for the purpose of considering and reporting to the Parliament on proposals to amend this Constitution or an Organic law. The Committee's powers and functions are provided by the Standing Orders of the Parliament and its membership is comprised of members of Parliament and such other persons as specified in the Standing Orders. This clause also provides for a procedure in receiving petitions from persons in the Northern Territory requesting an amendment of this Constitution or an Organic law. For the Standing Committee to be required to consider a request by petition, the petition requires that it be signed by ten (10) per cent of the electors qualified to vote at the election of the members of the Parliament.

Purpose of the Clause: 7.3 Aboriginal self-determination

Exposure Draft Northern Territory Constitution
Additional Provisions

Purpose of the Clause: 8.1 Language, social, cultural and religious matters

(b) Pre—Statehood: No Change.

PART 9 LOCAL GOVERNING BODIES

9.1 LOCAL GOVERNMENT

- (1) Subject to this Constitution, an Organic law or an Act of the Parliament there shall continue to be a system of local government in the Northern Territory under which local governing bodies are constituted with such powers as the Parliament considers necessary for the peace, order and good government of those areas of the Northern Territory that are from time to time subject to that system of local government;
- (2) The manner in which local governing bodies are constituted, and the nature and extent of their powers, functions, duties and responsibilities and all matters incidental thereto, shall be determined by or under this Constitution, or an Organic law or Acts of the Parliament from time to time in force;
