

WRITTEN QUESTION NO. 283

1. Under the Public Service Act, how many people have applied to work part time for 2010 and 2011 to date:

- a. In which Government department and/or Agency?
- b. In which regional centre that is, Darwin, Katherine, Tenant Creek, Alice Springs?
- c. For how many hours in what agency in which regional centre?
- d. How many of the applications were from women and how many for men, for what Agency in which regional centre?

2. How many applications were successful:

- a. In what Government agency and/or department?
- b. In which regional centre?
- c. For how many hours of work?
- d. How many were from women and how many were from men in what agency in which regional centre?

ANSWER

There is no statutory requirement to record these details. There is no central recording of information on applications, successful and/or unsuccessful for part time positions within the NT Public Service.

Requests for part time arrangements for current public servants are addressed within individual agencies on a case by case basis that does not involve the Office of the Commissioner for Public Employment.

Although the Office of the Commissioner of Public Employment does not hold the specific information requested above, attached are records of NT Public Service data on part time employees that may assist. The data represents a snapshot for actual part time employees as at June 2010 and June 2011 and includes agency, gender and regional information.