As an elderly person , I am so concerned that the VAD legislation to be passed by our NT lawmakers will be just like the ones passed so far that have sadly let down Aussies in advanced old age desperate for their forever rest . The current VAD laws in other jurisdictions have fallen short in addressing the needs and concerns of our elderly people. They are useless for those in advanced old age who are not terminally ill but are suffering unbearably all the same . I and all my senior friends are praying and hoping the NT lawmakers will take a different approach, one that will provide us seniors with a sense of control over our end -of-life journey alleviating anxiety and fears of a lingering , painful and undignified death . All we are asking is to be allowed to live our remaining days here in NT with peace of mind knowing that we have a compassionate option available when life gets to that unbearable stage .

Sincerely ,

Poh Lim
