I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed Voluntary Assisted Dying (VAD) legislation in the Northern Territory.

I believe this law would place vulnerable people at risk and undermine the value we place on protecting life, especially for those who are elderly, unwell, or facing mental health challenges. Instead of introducing VAD, I urge you to focus on improving palliative care and support services to ensure people can live their final stages of life with dignity and proper care.

Please oppose this legislation and stand for protecting life in the NT.

Sincerely,
Eli Webber, [REDACTED]
