Subject: Victims of crime applications by region

QUESTION:

In regard to the 1,727 victims of crime applications, can you please break that down by each region across the Northern Territory?

ANSWER:

The CVSU is unable to provide a breakdown of the applications by region without manually going through the application forms, which would take considerable time and resources. It is noted that applicants regularly move throughout the Territory or interstate after submitting their applications, and that many applications are submitted through legal representatives, who do not always provide the applicant's address.
