Territory Co-ordinator Submission.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am increasingly concerned that the revised bill to establish a Territory Co-ordinator will further decrease the essential nature of our democratic process. This is a worrying trend seen world-wide.

Too much power given to too few people does nothing to encourage citizens to contribute to civic process.

The increase of authoritarian government by the removeable of the checks and balances promotes secrecy and corruption and decreases transparency and accountability. Not a healthy move.

I think the proposed bill to establish a Territory Co-ordinator should be abandoned and however inconvenient open, accountable and transparent processes be pursued.

Yours sincerely Graham Kirby. [REDACTED].
