Alice Springs Hospital - Clinical Management Wing Upgrade

When I had the briefing with your office in April, I was given a summary and in it there was the following reference; 'Following complaints from staff, various other technical advice has been sought on the air-condition, water, plumbing and medical gas systems. Design and documentation to upgrade the clinical management wing to full ICU standard has been undertaken so it can be used as the decant ward for all other wards during the rectification works, and tenders called the work':

1. Would you kindly advise of the status of the above work and when did staff first start to complain about the need for these problems and issues.
