WRITTEN QUESTION

Mr Elferink

to Minister for Police, Fire and Emergency Services

Kintore Police Station

1. When is the Kintore Police Station to be built?
2. When do you expect the building to be completed and when do you plan to have the station operational with police operating from it?

ANSWER

Construction of the new Kintore Police Station is currently underway and is scheduled for completion by mid December 2003.

Kintore Police Station is scheduled for commissioning by mid December 2003, and members will be operating there, once the Station and houses are completed and handed over. Tenure for members will be for two years.

A member of the Western Australia Police Service will also be stationed at the location and members of both jurisdictions will jointly police communities in the Northern Territory and Western Australia.
