Answer: ANSWERED IN HANSARD -

If I could clear up that 4.7 for the member for Nelson, Mr Chair. The question was: What percentage of detainees who would go to Wildman return to custody in 12 months and two years. The answer from Corrections is that Wildman is considered no more than a program of Don Dale, in which low security juveniles can be located for a time. Many are back and forth between Don Dale and Wildman during their period of detention. The figures are not kept separately. It is seen as two parts are the same program of management.
