

ESTIMATES COMMITTEE

Question Taken on Notice

Question Number: 8.11

Output Number: 2.2

Date: 19/06/2024

From: Mr Steve Edgington

To: Hon Mark Monaghan

Portfolio: Mining

Agency: Industry, Tourism & Trade

Subject: Longest timeframe of mining management plan

QUESTION

On average a mining management plan takes 61 days to review and approve. What is the longest period of time a mining management plan has taken from application to approval?

ANSWER

Longest assessment timeframe for a mining management plan:

2023-24 FY: 139 days – mining project - Spring Hill West Project – JSM Mining Pty Ltd (Alluvial Mine)

The Department of Industry, Tourism and Trade publishes mining regulation assessment timeframes on a quarterly basis on the NTG website since 2022 FY: Mining regulation assessment timeframes | NT.GOV.AU